THRIVE RIGHT NOW is dedicated to understanding the 'Truth in Life' regarding the key issues being faced today around the world. When we realize that each of us sees Truth differently and define our own truth in our lives from a unique place in this world, we can respect each other's point of view. Truth in Life supports each of us coming together to share what we have learned. By reaching beyond the surface and navigating the great expanse of information, we come to our own deeper conclusions about Truth in Life from our own unique position. THRIVE RIGHT NOW believes that 'Knowledge is Power.' Only way to understand Truth and change life is to 'Know Thyself' and 'Do Your Own Research' (DYOR).

Education through self knowledge, self alignment and quantum connectedness, a process we call Multidimensional Quantum Development, is key to understanding any situation clearly. Embracing these concepts leads to empowerment as we define our own truth, take personal responsibility, and then act authentically and consciously with our inner truth and the greater Truth in Life. This process, we call Didactic Edification, is essential in resolving and improving life in today's world. Each of us is unique in 'who we are,' 'what we our experience,' 'why we are here,' and 'what we do.' We express in our distinctive vibrational frequencies in our own harmonious way. The tuning key is not to line up with others harmonies, but instead to resonate at the highest internal clarity, the joyous music of the individual soul. When we find this central footing, the rest flows freely throughout the dimensions. From this seat of our soul, we all are united at our core. By standing strong in our individual positions, we bring light into this world. This is how together we shape our world.

THRIVE RIGHT NOW intends to share sparks of light that might ignite inspiration within each of us on our greater journey of Truth in Life!
